FreedomVOICE Systems Continues Dramatic Growth in 2006

Encinitas, CA... FreedomVOICE Systems, a leading provider of a wide array of integrated virtual office tools, announces continued dynamic growth throughout 2006.

“The escalating demand for our products and services has resulted in a dramatic increase in the number of customers,” said Eric Thomas, CEO of the company he founded in 1996. “In turn, this has necessitated the acquisition of more office space to accommodate our growing number of employees.”

According to company officials, revenue for the first three quarters of 2006 has grown by more than 30% over the same time period last year, in part from the acquisition of more than 4000 new customers.

Correspondingly, FreedomVOICE Systems has added 7 customer service, IT, marketing and other professionals to their staff, an increase of 35%.

“To properly office these new folks, we have expanded our space twice in two years,” said Thomas. “We’ve doubled the amount of square footage we had last year, and I believe we’ll be looking for more in the near future. It’s the kind of growth I like to see! And it’s all because our products are feature rich, flexible and affordable, and our people deliver exceptional customer service.”

FreedomVOICE Systems’ products allow small and midsize companies to portray an image of success and professionalism as well as manage communications and marketing activities through an integrated, web-based communications hub. Virtual office tools including flexible, toll-free voice messaging, electronic faxing and advertising tracking can enhance office productivity, increase customer interaction and boost profit, according to company officials.
